

Anatomy and Physiology Event
North Shore Science League
December 2008 Meet

General Description: Event participants will identify functions and structures of the human skeletal system. This event will include identifying structures on diagrams as well as answering questions related to the human skeletal system.

It is recommended that part of the teams' research should include practicing labeling diagrams of structures of the human skeletal system.

No outside materials will be allowed during this event.